

ROBERT H LORD CO.

EDUCATIONAL FURNITURE HIGHER EDUCATION

For over 40 years the Robert H. Lord Co. has been the partner New England educators turn to for their classroom requirements. Intelligently designed, comfortable learning environments make it possible for your students to learn more effectively. Shelves placed at student eye level, seats that encourage good posture and workstations that reduce physical stress are simple examples.

There are many other factors to consider when creating effective educational environments. From the classroom to the science lab and from the library to the lecture hall, the experts at the Robert H. Lord Co. can help you. We combine knowledge and experience with one of the most extensive lines of educational furnishings and equipment.

We'll work with your architect or contractor to help maximize use of your space. We'll help match your curriculum and teaching style with the right furnishings to meet student expectations. We'll provide comprehensive design services and ensure on-time delivery and installation.
